

US Birds of America

A Guide to Notable Birds of the United States

1. Bald Eagle (Haliaeetus leucocephalus): The national bird of the United States, known for its impressive white head and tail.
2. American Robin (Turdus migratorius): One of the most recognizable songbirds, often seen hopping on the ground.
3. Blue Jay (Cyanocitta cristata): Known for its bright blue plumage and loud, distinctive calls.
4. Northern Cardinal (Cardinalis cardinalis): A vibrant red male with a prominent crest, often seen in winter.
5. Mourning Dove (Zonotrichia melaninapetra): A common, gentle songbird with a soft cooing sound.
6. Yellow-billed Cuckoo (Coccyzus americanus): A large, striking bird known for its call.
7. Great Blue Heron (Ardea herculoides): A large wading bird often seen standing motionless near water.
8. Common Grackle (Grammus major): A large, iridescent bird often found in flocks.
9. Stellar's Jay (Cyanocitta stellaris): A vibrant blue jay species found in the Pacific Northwest.
10. Osprey (Pandion haliaeetus): A powerful raptor specializing in fishing.
11. Wood Duck (Aix sponsa): A colorful diving bird, particularly noticeable for the male's elaborate plumage.
12. Scarlet Tanager (Piranga caerulea): A brightly colored songbird, often found in eastern woodlands.
13. Chickadee (various species): Small, energetic songbirds known for their quick movements.
14. Barn Swallow (Hirundo rustica): Graceful flyers known for their distinctive, curved tails.
15. Hummingbirds (various species): Tiny, iridescent birds famous for their hovering flight and rapid wing beats.